International Children's Games

Greetings to all those gathered for your fortieth anniversary International Children's Games, and welcome to California.

Your outstanding support of this competition gives young athletes from around the world an opportunity to demonstrate their talents, right here in the Golden State. By encouraging a championship spirit, you help these youths build the confidence and character they need to achieve great things in the future.

I commend the dedicated volunteers who have worked to make this event a success. Your hard work to continue the legacy of your founder, Metod Klemenc, has united countless people across the globe and promoted sportsmanship and cultural understanding.

My deepest congratulations go to the many competitors here. You have put in countless hours of training and shown a great deal of commitment to your sports. I wish you all the best of luck and encourage you to continue to make fitness an important part of your life.

On behalf of all Californians, I extend my best wishes for a safe and thrilling event and wonderful visit to our state.

Sincerely,

Arnold Schwarzenegger

Message from Jacques Rogge

President
International Olympic Committee

One of the International Olympic Committee (IOC)'s main objectives has always been, and is more than ever in our society of today, to promote physical activity and to educate young people on the importance of sport and its values.

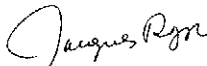

This is why the IOC will always encourage and support sports events such as the International Children's Games, which are an ideal opportunity to demonstrate to the world the role that sport plays by bringing together thousands of young people representing 50 countries for a friendly competition in a spirit of fair play and cultural understanding.

If youngsters learn through sport to respect each other, they will be well equipped for their role in contributing to a better and peaceful society.

Furthermore, the significant development of these Games in the areas of education and the environment reflects the growing understanding that a balanced athlete is a better performing athlete and future world leader.

On behalf of the Olympic Movement, I should like to extend my congratulations and best wishes to the city of San Francisco and the organisers of the 42nd International Children's Games on this important undertaking to strengthen the values and ideals of sport among the future generations.

Yours sincerely,

Jacques Rogge

Office of the Mayor

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you and the International Children's Games to the City of San Francisco.

The International Children's Games bring student athletes from around the world together to engage in friendly competition with their global neighbors. The event, now celebrating its 42nd year, offers children the opportunity to make life-long friendships while advancing greater compassion and acceptance of all people through this invaluable and unique cultural exchange through sport.

I am pleased that the International Children's Games chose our great state of California and the city of San Francisco to host this exciting event for the first time in the games' history.

The International Children's Games provide for us a unique opportunity to continue sharing San Francisco with a worldwide audience. It is our pleasure to welcome these young athletes and their families to the City by the Bay. We wish them luck as they strive for their personal best.

With warmest regards,

Gavin Newsom

COMITTEE OF THE INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN'S GAMES

It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the International Children's Games Committee, to extend a warm welcome to the athletes, coaches, delegates, organizers, volunteers and all participants to the 42nd International Children's Games in the beautiful city of San Francisco.

The Games offer the young athletes from around the world an opportunity to test their skills, challenge their personal best and prepare for future international competitions. It is a bridge between national competitions and a single sport and multi-sport event on the stage of the world.

The 42nd International Children's Games in San Francisco will offer you a chance to participate in meaningful activities that will be remembered for years to come. The International Children's Games promises exciting athletic competitions and fascinating cultural performances—it's an experience you won't forget.

Enjoy San Francisco, enjoy the meeting of children from around the world, and have a great time

Sincerely

Message from G. Bradford Solso

Chairman

San Francisco International
Children's Games 2008

Dear Friends

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, welcome to the 42nd International Children's Game. We are proud that you have chosen to visit our beautiful city for this wonderful event celebrating youth, sport and cultural exchange.

Since 1849, San Francisco has been a beacon for people from all over the world who were seeking a place of opportunity and cultural acceptance. Today, San Francisco has more than 60 consular offices and a cultural community as diverse as the participants in the 42nd International Children's Games. This year, more than 80 cities, representing 42 countries, spanning all six inhabitable continents, will take part in the International Children's Games.

On this, the 40th anniversary of the International Children's Games, we commend the founders for their vision and commitment to the youth of the world. We thank our sponsors, volunteers and supporters who have made these Games a reality. Most importantly, we celebrate the youth—the participants in these Games—who through their experiences will leave these Games with friendships and a greater understanding of their peers around the world. Compete hard, respect your competitors and remember the "most important thing is not to win but to take part". Enjoy the Games!

Willkommen, bienvenue, huānyíng, ukwaaba, добро пожаловать. welcome to San Francisco.

THE BAY AREA'S MOST INFLUENTIAL

USF University of San Francisco
Health Education

The International Children's Games is the only global, youth athletic event that combines sports, educational programs and peace-motivated cultural exchanges. The 42nd International Children's Games (the "San Francisco Games") is endorsed by the International Olympic Committee and will showcase San Francisco on the global stage. The San Francisco Games are organized and managed by San Francisco ICG 2008 ("SFICG") a non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation managed by a Board of Directors made up of a group of dedicated Bay Area community leaders.

History

Having seen his own childhood disrupted by World War II, Yugoslavian Professor Metod Klemenc had a vision to promote peace and friendship through sports to the world's youth. He organized the first International Children's Games in 1968 with the participation of teams from nine European cities. Through 2006, over 30,000 children ages 12 to 15 have participated, representing over 200 cities and 60 countries. The International Children's Games event is the world's largest international multi-sport youth games and is a recognized member of the International Olympic Committee.

San Francisco Games

The San Francisco Games will include competition for boys and girls in basketball, golf, soccer, swimming, tennis, table tennis, track and field, and volleyball. Approximately 1,200 athletes are expected to participate at venues throughout San Francisco that have previously hosted events like the American Express World Golf Championships.

Environmental Initiative

In keeping with the third pillar of Olympic movement, the San Francisco Games will be the first International Children's Games to develop and deploy a sustainable sport platform (the "Environmental Initiative") that will serve as a legacy for all future ICG host cities. Olympic Gold Medalist Jill Savery, a Yale graduate in environment management and an expert on sport and the environment, will lead the effort to create a sustainable platform, including recycling, tree planting, the use of clean energy and public transportation. The Environmental Initiative is supported by the Global Sports Alliance, the creator of the Eco-Flag movement, and also the United Nations Environmental Programme (UNEP).

VOLUNTEER CHECK IN

Check in: All volunteers must check in with their Shift Leader or Volunteer Manager at their designated meeting spot.

Please arrive 15 minutes before your shift with your ICG T-shirt on. Your Shift Leader/Volunteer Manager will give you your credentials, brief you on your duties, assign you a break/lunch, and answer your questions.

Shift Leader and/or Volunteer Manager: All volunteers are directly under the supervision of the Shift Leader, Volunteer Manager, or Tournament Director. You will be trained further on your specific duties. Please direct all emergency situations, questions and concerns to these people.

Check out: At the end of your shift you must sign out with the Shift Leader/Volunteer Manager.

MEALS

Only volunteers with full day shifts will receive lunch during their shifts.

- Volunteers with shifts on the USF campus will have their lunch at USF at the lunch tent located on the west side of the University Center Building.
- Volunteers with shifts outside of USF will have box lunch served to them
