Purpose 目的：

The objective of the mission was to participate in the “The 12th International Conference on the History of Science in China”, to deliver a paper, to supervise and evaluate the presentations of my two Master students, and to discuss projects of future cooperation with colleagues participating in the Conference.

Procedure 過程：

The Conference My paper entitled “Traditional Chinese science among Vietnamese minorities: preliminary results” was delivered during the evening session on June 28 and was well received by the audience.

My Master students, Wu Chia-Yun and Yang Wei-Ting, successfully delivered their papers (both presentations were in English); the audience was interested in the results they presented and there were many questions.

心得及建議事項：

During the Conference I discussed with the plans of future cooperation in the field of history of science with a number of colleagues, including Profs. R. Rashed (France), E. Kolchinsky, T. Yusupova (both Russia), Sasaki Chikara (Japan), and E. Nikolaidis (Greece).

The presentations of my students as well as my own were very successful.

To conclude, the mission to Beijing was successful: all the projected objectives were achieved.
