The 7th Meeting of Heads of SGATAR Training Institutions

What are the capabilities you have identified that you need to build or develop within your workforce to identify and respond to these issues?

1.1 Issues on tax administration arising from changes in the environment surrounding Japan (Maturation of society, growth of Asian economies and progress in adopting ICT)

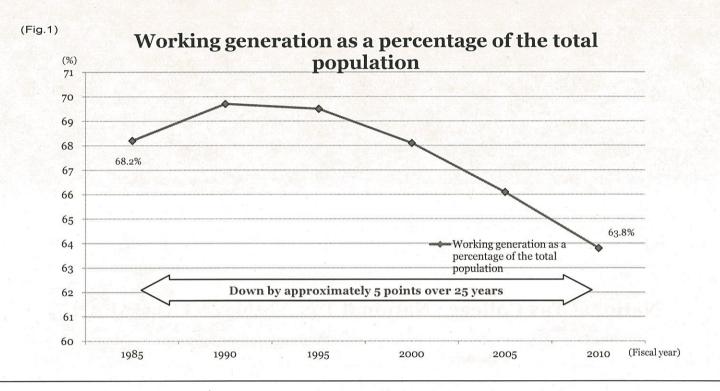

1.1.1 Maturation of society

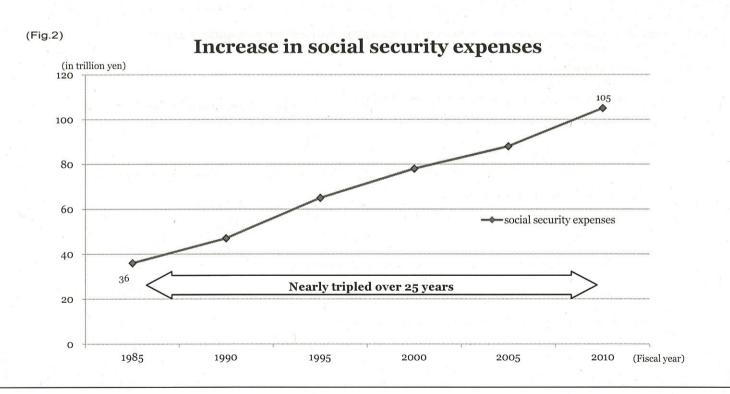

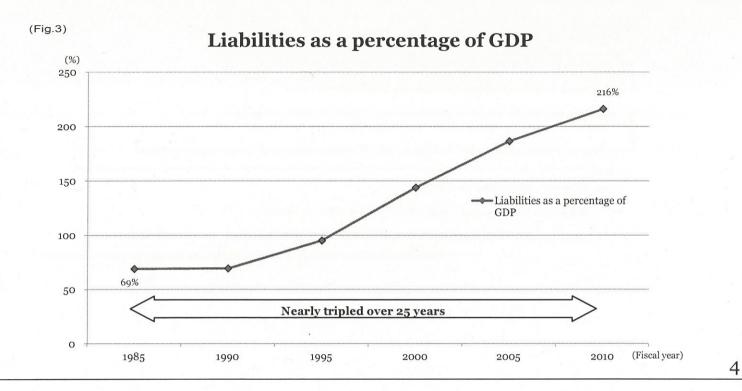

Working generation(Between the ages of 16 and 64) as a percentage of the total population:68.2% in 1985 → 63.8% in 2010(Down by approximately 5 points over 25 years)

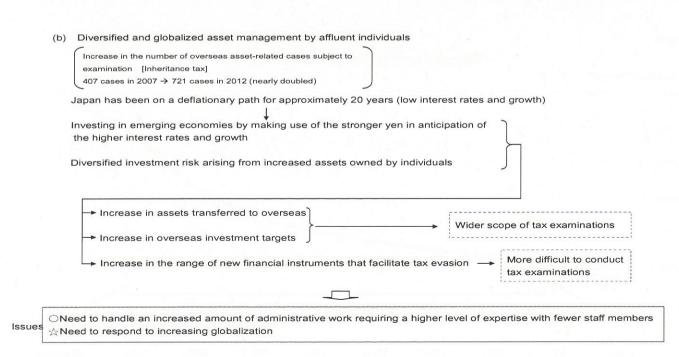

^{*2 36} trillion yen in 1985 → 105 trillion in 2010 (Nearly tripled over 25 years)

 $^{^{*3}}$ Liabilities as a percentage of GDP:69% in 1985 \Rightarrow 216% in 2010(Nearly tripled over 25 years)

(c) Shifting toward a lawsuit-based society

(i) Reforming the judicial system

Shifting from regulation-based to ex-post checking society with easing of restrictions

→ Growing demand for fairness and transparency of social activities

Increased awareness among the Japanese people of their rights

→ Higher expectations on the judicial system(Seeking a more familiar and easily-accessible system)

Demand for the achievement of people's rights through swift delivery of appropriate solutions

▶ Reforming the judicial system

Swelling in the judicial population (Fig.4) (4times over 40 years)

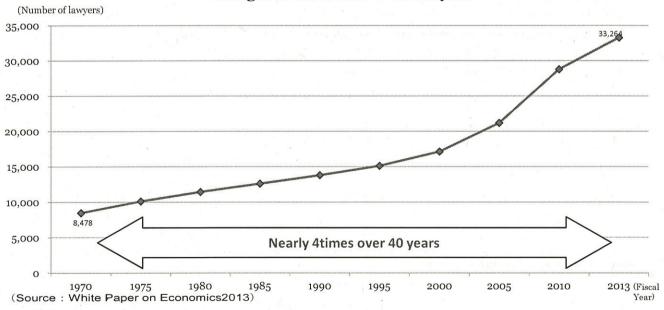

Increase in the number of tax examination cases defended by lawyers

More difficult to deal with appeals regarding assessments or collection of taxes

1.1.2 Further progress of globalization with the growth of Asian economies

(a) Increased business activities by companies across borders (Fig. 5)

Number of overseas subsidiaries of Japanese firms → Nearly tripled over 20 years

Number of records on overseas remittances and overseas receipts → Nearly 2.3 times increase over 15 years

Number of cases on transfer pricing (mutual agreement procedures) → Nearly 2.4 times increase over 15 years

Growing awareness of tax savings (Recognition of taxes as costs)

Concern about income outflows to countries with lower effective tax rates

Wider scope of tax examinations

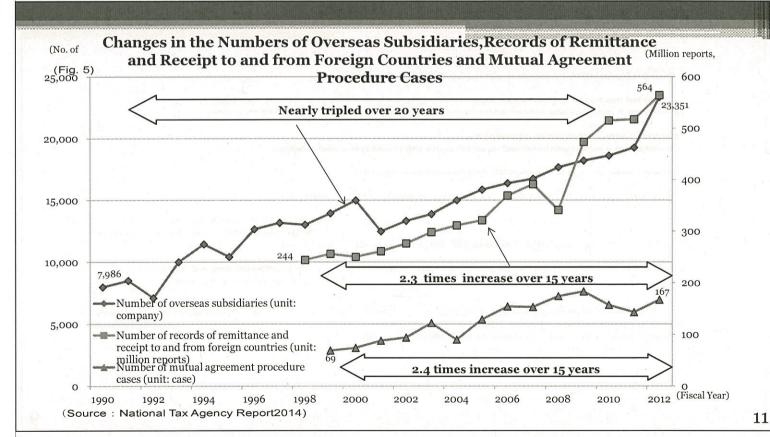

More difficult to conduct tax examinations

Issues

Need to handle an increased amount of administrative work requiring a higher level of expertise with fewer staff members

A Need to respond to increasing globalization

Need to improve the ability to respond to legal affairs and lawsuits

1.1.3 Progress of adopting ICT

(a) Developing information and communications technology (ICT) Widespread use of information-communications devices

Increase in e-commerce services(Paperless and direct transactions)

→ Difficulties in grasping transactions that are subject to taxation (Anonymous transactions through Internet auctions) More difficult to conduct tax examinations

←Globalization in economy

Borderless e-commerce

Legal provisions of taxes unable to keep up with this trend —> Need to put legal frameworks for taxation in place

Emergence of business transactions not subject to taxation such as entry into Japanese market by foreign companies with e-book business, etc

Issues

- O Need to handle an increased amount of administrative work requiring a higher level of expertise with fewer staff members
- ☆Need to respond to increasing globalization
- ♦ Need to improve the ability to respond to legal affairs and lawsuits

1.2 Measures to respond to the issues marked with Occopstated in 1.1

- O Need to handle an increased amount of administrative work requiring a higher level of expertise with fewer staff members
 - Secure working hours to handle administrative work related to tax examination and collection by enhancing the efficiency of internal work
 - → Use ICT in tax administration

(ICT budget: Accounting for 6% of the total initial budget for fiscal 2013 of NTA)

- Raise the level of ability of the entire staff through on-the-job training and other training courses at the workplace
- Enhance the efficiency of administrative work related to tax examinations and collection

→ Enhance information-gathering/organizing capabilities

- → More detailed examinations (shifting from negotiation-based toStatutory interpretation-based examinations)
- Raise the level of ability of the entire staff through on-the-job training and other training courses at the workplace

A Need to respond to increasing globalization

Develop specialists in international taxation and raise the level of ability of the entire staff through training courses

Need to improve the ability to respond to legal affairs and lawsuits

Develop specialists in legal affairs and raise the level of ability of the entire staff through training courses

2. What are the capabilities you have identified that you need to build or develop within your workforce to identify and respond to these issues?

			A CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY O
The abilities (knowledge	e) that staff should acquire to re-	spond each issue marked w	vith ○☆ stated in 1	.1 are described below:

ONeed to handle an increased amount of administrative w	vork requiring a higher level of	expertise with fewer staff m	nembers—► See 2.1
Need to handle an increased amount of administrative w	vork requiring a nigher level of	expertise with lewer stair if	lembers - See 2.

≪Need to respond to increasing globalization —See 2.2

Need to respond to increasing globalization
♦ Need to improve the ability to respond to legal affairs and lawsuits
See 2.2

2.1 Abilities (knowledge) that staff should acquire to respond to the issue

2.1.1 ICT literacy

Ability to use personal computers and their peripherals

- 2.1.2 Ability to carry out administrative work related to tax examination and collection efficiently
 - (a) PC literacy and information gathering/analyzing abilities
 - (b) Interpretation and application of basic tax law

14

2.2 Abilities (knowledge) that staff should acquire to respond to the issue \square

(* See Fig.6 for the number of hours of study required for each training course)

2.2.1 Basic level of expertise in the international taxation system (☆1)

Taxation on non-residents/foreign corporations in Japan, Controlled foreign company (CFC) legislation, Transfer pricing taxation system, International law, etc

2.2.2 Advanced level of expertise in international transactions ($\times 2$)

(a) Knowledge about practices in international transactions

Knowledge of the taxation system of each country

Understanding of the business environment and actual conditions in each country

(b) Advanced level of expertise

→ Understanding of complicated and advanced trading approaches pertaining to financial transactions and restructuring

Knowledge of details about instruments that facilitate tax evasion

2.2.3 Practical ability to carry out examinations on overseas transactions (公3)

Abilities (knowledge) that staff should acquire to respond to the issue 2.3

(* See Fig.6 for the number of hours of study required for each training course)

2.3.1 Practical abilities to interpret and apply tax law (<1)

- (a) Understanding the relationship between requirements for taxation stipulated in tax law and facts and/or evidence
- (b) Understanding judicial precedents and accumulation of knowledge (including new legal interpretation)
- (c) Applying the above abilities (a) and (b) in actual cases

2.3.2 Knowledge about complicated and advanced transactions (\Diamond 2)

- (a) Knowledge of Organizational Restructuring, M&A and business rehabilitation
- (b) Knowledge of the Companies Act and company accounting

What approaches or initiatives have you implemented to build the capabilities that have been identified for the future?

For developing staff members' abilities (knowledge) stated in 2.1 (O1 and 2)

- Training courses at workplace using manuals
- (b) On-the-job training carried out by experienced staff members

For developing staff members' abilities (knowledge) stated in 2.2 ($\frac{1}{1}$, 2 and 3) and 2.3 (<>1 and 2)

It was difficult to acquire these abilities through the existing training courses.

- → Review of the existing training system (Fig. 7) → See 3.2.1 and 3.2.2 → Enhancement of the quality of training (Fig. 8) → See 3.2.3

Increase in the number of staff members who participate in basic training courses for international taxation and legal affairs

- (a) Learning basic knowledge and examination procedures through the training courses
 - The training courses are for people who are to be newly appointed as examiner or revenue officer (university graduates with three years' work experience or high school graduates with seven years' work experience) (Fig. 7: A, B, C and D)
- (b) Training materials are available on the LAN
 - → Not only trainees but also non-trainees are allowed to use these training materials (for self-improvement)

	3.2.2	Preparing advanced-leve	I specialists in	international	taxation and	legal affairs
--	-------	-------------------------	------------------	---------------	--------------	---------------

(a) Implementing a screening test for selecting trainees of advanced-level training courses (Fig. 7: G and H)

Ratio of successful applicants to total applicants:

For International Course G: Approximately 1:5

For Specialty Course H: Approximately 1:30

Selecting a limited number of staff members as trainees for these courses

- → Maintain a certain level of trainees
 - → Enhance training effects (efficiency)
- Stimulate a spirit of rivalry
 - -- Foster a desire to engage in self-improvement activities
- (b) Providing step-up training courses and subsequent on-the-job training programs
 - → Develop advanced-level specialists through on-the-job training at specialized departments

Enhancing the quality of training courses on international taxation and legal affairs Review instructors, learning materials and curricula of the training courses (Fig. 8)

What successes /challenges have you had in building future capability?

Regarding the initiatives stated in 3, there were difficulties allocating the optimum amount of working hours between administrative work related to tax examination and collection and training-related work

○ Need to handle an increased amount of administrative work requiring a higher level of expertise with fewer staff members Need to secure enough working hours for on-site internal work and administrative work related to tax examination and collection Contradiction Cultivating specialists requires providing training courses ☆ Need to respond to increasing globalization Need to improve the ability to respond to legal affairs and lawsuits Need to secure enough working hours dedicated to training courses Difficulties allocating the optimum amount of working hours between administrative work related to tax examination and collection and training-related work Efforts to curb an increase in training-related Ongoing review of curricula administrative work Implementing training courses by correspondence making less working hours dedicated to training 1

courses

Discontinuing less-effective, inefficient training courses (The total number of training day:436,000 in 2012→408,000 in 2013(cut of about 6.4%))

Improvements to training courses by correspondence 4.2

- Adopting schooling
 - → Trainees can learn abilities (knowledge) which they cannot obtain only through studying at home
 - Incorporating the courses in step-up type training courses (Start with A or D in Fig. 7)
 - ─► Trainees can visually see gradual development of their abilities (leading to an increased desire to engage in self-improvement activities)
 - Management and assessment of training progress by supervisors
 - → Trainees can maintain and enhance their motivation

(Fig. 7) Initiatives to develop the abilities stated in 2.2 (☆1, 2,3) and 2.3 (◇1, 2)

Increasing the number of staff members who take part in training courses and developing specialists
