WELCOME TO THE 2022 AANP NATIONAL CONFERENCE

From AANP President April N. Kapu,
DNP, APRN, ACNP-BC, FAANP

Dear Colleague,

The American Association of Nurse Practitioners® (AANP) invites you to register for the 2022 AANP National Conference, where nurse practitioners (NPs) will expand upon the theme of NPs Leading to Advance the Future of Nursing and Health Care.

This exceptional program is underscored by AANP's commitment to empowering all NPs to advance accessible, person-centered, high-quality health care for diverse communities through practice, education, advocacy, research and leadership (PEARL). Designed to enrich knowledge and support clinical excellence, AANP's national conference provides a transformative experience for NPs and NP students alike and is among the most well-attended and highest-rated conferences for NPs of all specialties.

With more than 350 educational sessions scheduled, including 80 on-demand sessions, this conference offers you the opportunity to earn significant continuing education (CE) credit online or on-site in Orlando, Florida. You'll hear the latest NP legislative and policy updates affecting you and your patients. Hands-on workshops will further hone your skills, and an array of special events will add to the excitement!

I'm pleased to share that the opening keynote speaker, Erik Wahl, will kick off the conference with a high-energy performance and empowering message on embracing change. This session will inspire and equip you to achieve superior performance by overcoming the challenges that often accompany change.

The conference will conclude on a powerful note of hope as civil rights advocate and humanitarian, Martin Luther King III, delivers a thought-provoking closing keynote address on diversity and human rights — factors at the heart of addressing social determinants of health.

On behalf of the AANP Board of Directors, I encourage you to attend this conference — either in person or online — to hear new perspectives and make cherished memories. I look forward to seeing you!

Respectfully,
April N. Kapu, DNP, APRN, ACNP-BC, FAANP

SPEAKER HIGHLIGHTS

AANP is honored to bring health care leaders, policy experts, public health officials and other well-respected speakers to AANP conference attendees. The keynote speakers for the 2022 AANP National Conference include:

Opening General Session Keynote Speaker: Erik Wahl

Erik Wahl, an internationally recognized artist, TED speaker and bestselling business author, will create a multidimensional experience encouraging attendees to embrace innovation, risk and change. During Wahl's high-energy performance, he will discuss how disruption is the new normal and why businesses and individuals must embrace creativity in a wholesale fashion or risk being left behind. He will inspire attendees to help make their organizations more agile and outline how to use disruption as a competitive advantage within the health care system.

Wahl will incorporate his on-stage painting to seamlessly serve as a visual metaphor for the core of his message – demonstrating the possibility of profitability through innovation and superior performance. As the author of several books, including UNthink™, and his latest, The Spark and the Grind, Wahl will challenge NPs to embrace the mental discipline of actionable creativity. During this transformative keynote, Wahl's passion for professional growth and art will converge into a fascinating performance, inspiring NPs to enthusiastically embrace the changes and challenges that are sure to come with the future of health care delivery.

Saturday General Session Keynote Speaker: Martin Luther King III

Global humanitarian Martin Luther King III is a preeminent thought leader, civil rights advocate and solutions-oriented proponent of social change. As the oldest son of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Mrs. Coretta Scott King, he amplifies his father's work to eradicate racism, violence and poverty worldwide. King has devoted his life to promoting human rights and shepherding the healing of our nation – and the world. He will help conference attendees connect important lessons from the past with the critical needs of our future and empower them to be champions of positive change for their patients and within their communities. King will deliver his inspirational message on equality and peace, encouraging NPs to continue leading efforts to address social determinants of health – especially those related to racism, poverty and violence.

With a focus on continuing the King legacy through education, action, engagement with world leaders and collaboration with socially conscious organizations, King and his wife Arndrea lead the Drum Major Institute, a nonprofit organization, think tank and community action group established in the 1960s. King is the recipient of numerous awards and honorary degrees, including one of India's most prestigious honors for outstanding contributions to the promotion of human rights.

I understand that the World Health Organization has declared the novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) a worldwide pandemic and acknowledge that the American Association of Nurse Practitioners (AANP) and Meeting Management Associates (MMA) are working closely with local and federal guidelines and recommendations to plan and hold the national conference in order to minimize the potential for COVID-19 transmission amongst participants.

By submitting an attendee registration, I acknowledge and agree that I am fully responsible for my own safety and actions while participating in the national conference and recognize that I may be at risk of contracting COVID-19 through no fault of AANP or MMA. With full knowledge of risks involved, I hereby release, waive, covenant not to sue, and further agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Released Parties from any and all liabilities, claims, demands, actions, causes of action, costs, expenses, damages and lawsuits whatsoever, directly or indirectly arising out of related to any loss, damage, injury, or death, that may be sustained, related to COVID-19 while participating in any activity while in, on or around the premises or while using the facilities that may lead to unintentional exposure or harm due to COVID-19.

Out of an abundance of caution, AANP is taking the following steps to ensure the safety of those attending the national conference and related events. Precautions will begin at badge pick-up, where all guests must attest to being fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and not currently, or within the past 14 days, experiencing any symptoms associated with COVID-19. Masks must be properly worn by all conference attendees. The situation remains fluid, therefore all conference details, including sessions, speakers, rooms and COVID-19 precautions, are subject to change. Visit the conference website for the most current updates and to review the full list of precautions in place to ensure all attendees have a safe and enriching experience.

AANP reserves the right to change participation protocols depending on COVID-19 conditions, along with local and CDC guidelines in place at time of the conference.
